Recipient Name	Project Purpose	Project Location	Amount Requested ($000)
University of New Hampshire	With this proposed infusion of additional federal funding, the New Hampshire Small Business Development Center (NH SBDC) located at UNH will be able to continue the extremely popular and practical cyber security review program for New Hampshire's small businesses and expand the number of businesses and analytic services offered by the UNH Center for Business Analytics and NH SBDC through the proposed Small Business Technology Transformation Initiative (STTI). The STTI will help small businesses transform their operations through innovation, digitization and automation.	Durham NH	$375
Plymouth State University	Plymouth State University (PSU) seeks funding to retrofit Hyde Hall's Innovation and Entrepreneurship Center to allow for more collaboration and community focused space to build more local business partnerships. With the funding for this project, PSU will be able to expand their community work with Lakes Region and North Country businesses through cluster learning which provides hands-on, real-world experience for PSU students to ensure graduates are ready to participate in the workforce, understand the nuances of working with a broad group of people, and make a positive difference in the state's economy and, ultimately, uplift demographics.
